

- Searches statewide criminal information repositories where available
- Increases criminal search scope beyond county level searches
- Identifies reportable criminal records in the states where the applicant has history

Why Conduct a Statewide Criminal Search?

Statewide criminal searches can be used to cast a wider net in states where a person has a history.

HireRight's Statewide Criminal Search

Unlike our HireRight Criminal Felony & Misdemeanor Search which is performed through county superior, municipal, or local courthouses, statewide searches check state available repositories, which can include district courts, state police departments, bureaus of investigations, or combined statewide court systems that encompass all counties within a state.

HireRight requires an applicant's first name, middle name or middle initial, last name, and date of birth to perform a Statewide Criminal Search. Some states require additional information, state specific release forms, or fingerprints to process the initial search. To identify the states that should be searched, HireRight allows clients to use addresses from various sources including the applicant's current address, address history, and employment and education history.

The Statewide Criminal Search may return different types of reportable criminal and offense information. When a record is found, information reported will include the charges, severity, case status or disposition, and sentencing (if applicable).

Statewide searches are not available in:

- California
- Louisiana
- Massachusetts
- Mississippi
- Ohio (not available for current residents of OH)

Global Company, Local Solutions

The HireRight Statewide Criminal Search searches available statewide criminal repositories in the United States. While this search is a U.S. based criminal solution, HireRight provides other global criminal background services that search localized courts in other countries.

How it Works

A Statewide Criminal Search is created either when specifically ordered by the client or is initiated from one of HireRight's pointer products, such as Widescreen Plus. Based on your client and package guidelines for address collection, current and previous addresses are collected for the applicant. Address collection is done either via an integration, recruiter flow, or applicant invite via HireRight's mobile-enabled Applicant Center. Each state level criminal search is then sent to the appropriate data source for that specific state to look for possible records. If a potential record is located, the HireRight Public Records team will use all available identifiers to determine if the record belongs to the applicant. The HireRight Public Records Team will also determine reportability of individual records according to search guidelines, and FCRA and state laws.
